“Emerging Technologies and Skills for Resilient Industries”

The inclusion of an Author Declaration is an obligatory requirement for all submissions. You can locate the Author Declaration form at the conclusion of this document. Authors have the option to save this template, acquire the necessary signatures on a scanned version of the template, and subsequently upload it as part of their submission to the CMT system.

This declaration covers a number of issues which are described below.

Publication Integrity:

Duplicate publication or plagiarism: Duplicate publication or plagiarism refers to the act of publishing a paper that has already been published without proper acknowledgment. Any attempt to publish such work without notifying the Programme Committee will result in rejection. However, any such work should be referenced and cited appropriately. The Programme Committee strongly recommends that all authors check their abstracts or full papers for plagiarism using a plagiarism checker before submitting.

Authorship: All authors listed must sign the Author Declaration form. It is mandatory for all individuals designated as authors to be included.

Changes in Authorship : Requests to add, remove, or rearrange author names in an accepted full paper must be communicated to the Programme Committee via the corresponding author (irs2023@uovt.ac.lk). Written confirmation (fax/letter) from all authors must be provided, indicating their agreement with the proposed changes. If authors are being added or removed, confirmation from the affected author(s) is also required.

Ethical Clearance: Authors conducting experiments on animals should indicate whether they obtained ethical clearance from the relevant institutional or professional Ethical Review Committee prior to commencing the study. For experiments involving human subjects, authors should specify whether the procedures followed were in accordance with the ethical standards set by the responsible committee on human experimentation.

Inclusion of Company/Organization Names in Research Papers: It is advisable to obtain prior approval or permission to use the names of companies or organizations if they are included in the research paper.
